DETAILED ACTION

This is a final rejection for application no. 10/040,741 in response to the amendment filed on November 26, 2004 in which claims 1-5, 9, and 15-18 are presented for examination.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5, 9, and 15-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Objections

Claim 15 is objected to because of the following informalities: The last line of the claim states "associated with the segment of the video;" the claim should state "associated with the segment of the video.. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, 9, 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 5,600,775 to King et al.

[claims 1, 4 and 9]

Art Unit: 2613

As shown in Figure 1, King teaches a video presentation tool kit for creating an annotated video presentation formed of a number of linearly associated video frames; comprising:

A user activated designation tool for designating at least a portion of at least one of the number of video frames (Col 4 Lines 44-57);

An annotator tool for annotating the designated video frame portion (25 Fig 1, Col 5 Lines 26-31, Col 6 Lines 8-14); and

And authoring tool arranged to provide additional effects to enhance the designated video frame portion (Col 5 Lines 32-52).

Further, King teaches the designation tool is a pointer icon as required by claim 4 (27 Fig 1, Col 4 Lines 64-65).

As shown in Figure 1, King further teaches the user activated designation tool is activated by way of a user provided command via an input device selected from a group consisting of a graphics tablet, a keyboard, a joystick and a microphone as required by claim 9 (17-19 Fig 1, Col 4 Lines 15-16, Col 4 Line 58-Col 5 Line 6).

[claim 15]

As shown in Figure 1, King teaches a system for creating commentaries associated with a video formed of a number of linearly associated video frames, the system comprising:

A display (13);

Art Unit: 2613

An interpreter (10) for receiving commands from a user activated designation tool (17 and 18) for designating at least a portion of at least one of the number of video frames,

An annotator tool for annotating the designated video frame portion (15),

And an authoring tool arranged to provide additional effects to enhance the designated video frame portion (15);

And wherein the commands are associated with video presented on the display;

A memory element storing a computer executable code operable to (Col 4 Lines 20-24):

Receive the commands from the interpreter;

Indicate a segment of the video; and

Format the commands as a computer executable commentary associated with the segment of the video (Col 2 Lines 1-15, Col 4 Line 25-Col 5 Line 6).

[claim 16]

King further teaches the means of adding annotations to a media file and then viewing the annotations with a media file (Col 5 Lines 7-Col 6 Line 7, Fig. 2). It is interpreted by the examiner that by King playing the media file with the annotations, King is performing an emulation and displaying the results as shown in window (56) of Figure 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2613

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over King.

King teaches the system of claim 16 as shown above. King does not specifically teach the display providing a first window wherein at least a portion of the video is displayed in the first display window absent annotations and the commentary is displayed in the second display window, and wherein the commentary as displayed comprises at least a portion of the video title and an associated annotation. It is well known in the art to provide a developer both an original view and an edited view in order to determine if the editing is desirable (Official Notice). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide a display containing a first window absent of annotations and a second window containing commentary as it is well known in the art to provide a developer an original and an edited view (Official Notice).

Claims 5 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over King in view of US Patent 6,507,696 to Chung et al.

[claim 5]

King teaches the tool kit of claim 1 as shown above. King further teaches the kit provides an add verbal command and an add graphic command (Col 5 Lines 32-51, Fig.

2). King does not teach the use of a linking tool that links the designated portion to a vista point that provides an enhanced view of a corresponding portion of the designated portion.

Art Unit: 2613

Chung teaches the use of providing the user with several options while viewing a digital video. One option is to view an enhanced video (Viewing Angle, Color Adjust) (Col 3 Line 45-Col 4 Line 6, Figs 2 and 3). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the vista point commands (chapter jump and viewing angle) of Chung with the system of King in order to provide more options to the viewer while watching a digital video.

[claim 18]

King teaches the system of claim 15 as shown above. King further teaches the system provides an add verbal command and an add graphic command (Col 5 Lines 32-51, Fig. 2). King does not teach the use of an add vista point command.

Chung teaches the use of providing the user with several options while viewing a digital video. The options include Chapter Jump, Editor's Comments, Viewing Angle, Volume Adjust, and Color Adjust (Col 3 Line 45-Col 4 Line 6, Figs 2 and 3). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the vista point commands (chapter jump and viewing angle) of Chung with the system of King in order to provide more options to the viewer while watching a digital video.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over King in view of Chung and US Patent 6,144,375 to Jain et al.

[claims 2 and 3]

As shown above, King teaches the tool kit of claim 1: King further teaches the additional effects include a verbal or textual commentary effect, frame freeze effect

(pause), and frame drawing effect (Col 5 Lines 7-18 and 32-52, Fig. 2). King does not teach the zoom effect or the color correction effect.

Chung teaches the use of providing the user the option to change Viewing Angle and Color Adjust (Col 3 Line 45-Col 4 Line 6, Figs 2 and 3). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the vista point commands (chapter jump and viewing angle) of Chung with the system of King in order to provide more options to the viewer while watching a digital video. Though Chung teaches an angle effect, Chung does not teach the zoom effect.

Jain teaches the highlight creation system in which the user can zoom in on an image (406) and display the zoomed image along with media related to the image in a separate window (402) as required by claim 3 (Col 16 Lines 39-43, Col 20 Lines 6-11, Col 24 Lines 6-24 and 58-61). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the zoom feature of Jain with the system of King and Chung in order to provide a user with a close up image of a scene along with audio commentary as taught by Jain.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
